

NOTE

A LIST of the authorities consulted in writing this study of Charles James Fox will be found at the end of the volume.

Lord Sandwich has allowed me to make free use of the fourth Earl's papers at Hatchingbrooke; the Hon. and Rev. Edward V. R. Powys has extended a similar kindness in respect of a number of his great-grand-uncle's letters, and the manuscript diaries of Mrs. Fox; Sir John Fortescue allowed me to see his later volumes of George III.'s "Correspondence" in proof while I was writing this book; and Mr. Stephen Wheeler has helped me with valuable suggestions. I wish to offer my warmest thanks for these courtesies. Also I would thank the Dowager Countess of Ilchester for patiently answering my enquiries; the Rev. A. H. Hildersley, Rector of Wyton, Hunts, for useful information, and for allowing me to reproduce the entry of Fox's marriage in his church register; Mrs. St. Quintin, the present tenant of St. Anne's Hill, for her kindness; Colonel Rawnsley for allowing me to inspect the Betts Book at Brooks's; and Messrs. Maggs Bros. and Mr. A. W. Evans for helping me in the discovery of data.

Mr. Alistair N. Tayler and Mr. Philip Guedalla have kindly and helpfully read my proofs. I thank them too.
