THE FOUR-LEAF CLOVER

By BESSIE

YOU'LL need several clovers and three or four horseshoes if you are to have luck enough to finish this one without mishap. It's hard but very interesting.

THUS AND THUS

By COL. F. A. S., JR. AND CAPT. J. E. McE.

THE extensively abbreviated authors of this Greek-cross bespangled work have proved the mettle of their pasture—whatever that means. Try it—it's worth it.

CARRAMBA J ! ! !

By CAPT. F. F. STEWART

THOUGH the definitions here are in Spanish, the words you must fill in are English. Don't expire at the thought. It's quite solvable. For instance, 1 Horizontal you'll deduce is merely a cooking utensil in three letters—pot.

A CANAL ZONE PROBLEM

By B. C. SANDERS AND CAPT. F. F. STEWART

TWO residents of the Canal Zone put their heads together to make this one as hard as possible and they seem to have succeeded. You'll have to ferret in the dictionary to complete it, we warn you.
